

Michigan Apple Season August - October

Q3:

Program Update

Key Points

- Eight new internships were established during quarter three.
- Outreach and recruitment continue virtually. Travel restrictions implemented by Michigan State University continue to delay in-person outreach.
- NMSI Employees and staff continue to work remotely. NMSI actively searched for an Administrative Assistant. Hiring for the position is scheduled to occur in October.
- Despite all operating limitations during COVID, we have been innovative in making our students' and partners' program work.

Summary

Quarter three consists of the most traffic and busiest time of the year for transactions and direct support to interns. We work with multiple offices across campus to process timely stipends to our students, modify and create internship agreements that provide our students with the best possible support during their internship. We continue to conduct outreach with partnering employers. Relaying and sharing internship opportunities with CAMP programs nationwide.

We look forward to our final quarter as we transition from providing direct internship support to professional development and work towards internship placements for Summer 2021.
